Treasure Hunt

Hidden away in the treasure chests of knowledge, but always awaiting discovery, lies a rich reward—a means of obtaining success and happiness. Thus, like the bold and dauntless pirates of old, we boarded our ship and set out in search of this treasure.

We realize it takes much faith and courage to keep sailing onward in the wake of discouragement and disappointment; but with our hearts filled with such indomitable courage, surely we will sail into our home port someday, the treasure having been found, opened, and its riches distributed among us all. Sailing with us are many competent guides and advisers who will help us to reach our goal. They have already gone through these same experiences, and now they are sharing with us the wisdom of their discoveries.

Now we, as youthful mariners, present the log of our four-year voyage, a voyage in which we were united by a firm resolve to attain that much coveted treasure—our diploma.

Safe Anchorage

The friendly and familiar buildings of our home port will always be remembered long after we have made our voyage into the world. The well-kept campus—bright with color in spring, white with snow in winter, the rich red brick of our white columned building, the ivy covered walls, all are part of a picture that time cannot erase. We will look back upon our auditorium which was the scene of our assembly programs, study halls, and many enjoyable entertainments. We will remember the cafeteria where we met not only to eat, but also to discuss daily events and problems. There is more than physical beauty here, however, for within these walls where we have studied, worked, and played, we also learned how to get along with each other and to take responsibility as an introduction to adulthood. Our school is a symbol of our growth— physically, mentally, spiritually—from childhood to maturity. So may the strength and tradition of our school shine like a beacon to those after us who will come to this harbor to find friendship and knowledge. May they gain the rich experiences that have been such an unforgettable part of our lives.

During the warm days of spring and fall one often sees couples strolling about on the campus during the lunch periods. Here they meet to talk until the bell summons them to class.

The cafeteria is one of the favorite places of B. H. S. students. It serves as a place to eat, study, catch up on the latest news, and see all your friends.

Bridgeton High School

This is our alma mater—the school of which we are so proud. How fondly will we cherish the memories of incidents which took place here.

Superintendent of Schools Rowland H. Mulford

Flag Officers

It is with great appreciation that the Class of 1954 salutes Dr. Rowland H. Mulford, Superintendent of Schools; Harry C. Smalley, Principal, and David F. Shapiro, Assistant Principal. We began our high school life with high hopes, aims, and ideals, and they have helped us to achieve these goals. Through their constant guidance and leadership, we have enjoyed more thoroughly and benefited more fully from our high school life.

Special consideration should be given to Dr. Rowland H. Mulford for executing so efficiently the duties of his office as chief flag officer. Also deserving much credit are Principal Harry C. Smalley and Assistant Principal David F. Shapiro. Through our four years in Bridgeton High School, they have guided us toward the goals we wish to attain in life. As we travel through our various courses, we will always appreciate the complete understanding which they demonstrated in solving our problems. So we, the Class of Blue and White, salute you, our chief officers.

their vision

Dr. Mulford received the degree, Doctor of Education, from Temple University, June, 1953. His other two degrees, Bachelor of Arts and Master of Education, he received from Ursinus College and Temple University respectively. Our superintendent is also a member of Phi Delta Kappan, the national honorary fraternity for men in the field of education. Prior to his present administrative position, he served successively as teacher, principal, and head of the Science Department in the Bridgeton School System.

Port Authorities

The seniors of Bridgeton High School wish to express their sincerest gratitude to Superintendent Dr. Rowland H. Mulford and to the Board of Education who so competently work for the betterment of the public schools of Bridgeton. These invaluable persons work with interest, foresight, and untiring effort for the benefit of the community. Their understanding of the problems of the schools is exhibited in their pursuit of their numerous duties.

This year the Board of Education is composed of five members. They are Mr. Ellsworth H. Griner, president; Mrs. Barbara Brauer, vice-president; Mr. William Gehring, Mr. Crain, P. Portman, Jack G. Kolman, Esq. The membership changes gradually each January; as the term of one member expires, another representative from the businesses and industries of the community is named by the Mayor to fill the vacancy.

The work of the Board of Education is ever present. Among their many duties is the responsibility of distributing funds for buildings, textbooks, salaries, and repairs; of keeping satisfactory classroom space; of seeing that our schools have a library, auditorium, gymnasium facilities, cafeteria, and guidance program available. Adequate provisions must also be made for essential comforts. Proper lighting, sanitation, and heating fall into this category.

We firmly believe that the Board of Education will continue its excellent work of improving the educational opportunities for the pupils in our schools. We, the Class of 1954, have greatly benefited from the work of the Board of Education.

SEATED — Mrs. Millie Contino, Mrs. Beryl French, Guidance Director Claude C. Couch, Assistant Director Zelda Pineles, Mrs. Mary Cossaboon, Miss Rita McGeehan. STANDING — Miss Elizabeth Lupton, Arthur Marchand, Mrs. Lillian Wilson, Mrs. Mary Couch.

Navigators

It is to this department that we go for help in our work, interviews, and advice about future years. Here we get information about colleges or some vocation which we may make our career after graduation from high school.

When our work becomes overly difficult and we feel the need of some advice, we can find help in the Guidance office. Mr. Claude C. Couch, Guidance Director, and Miss Zelda Pineles, Assistant Guidance Director, head this group of counselors who give us their warm friendly services. The class advisers can also be found in the guidance office in their own separate booths. This department plays a big part in our high school life, giving us invaluable contacts and information that will greatly aid us after we graduate and set sail on the many seas of adventure.

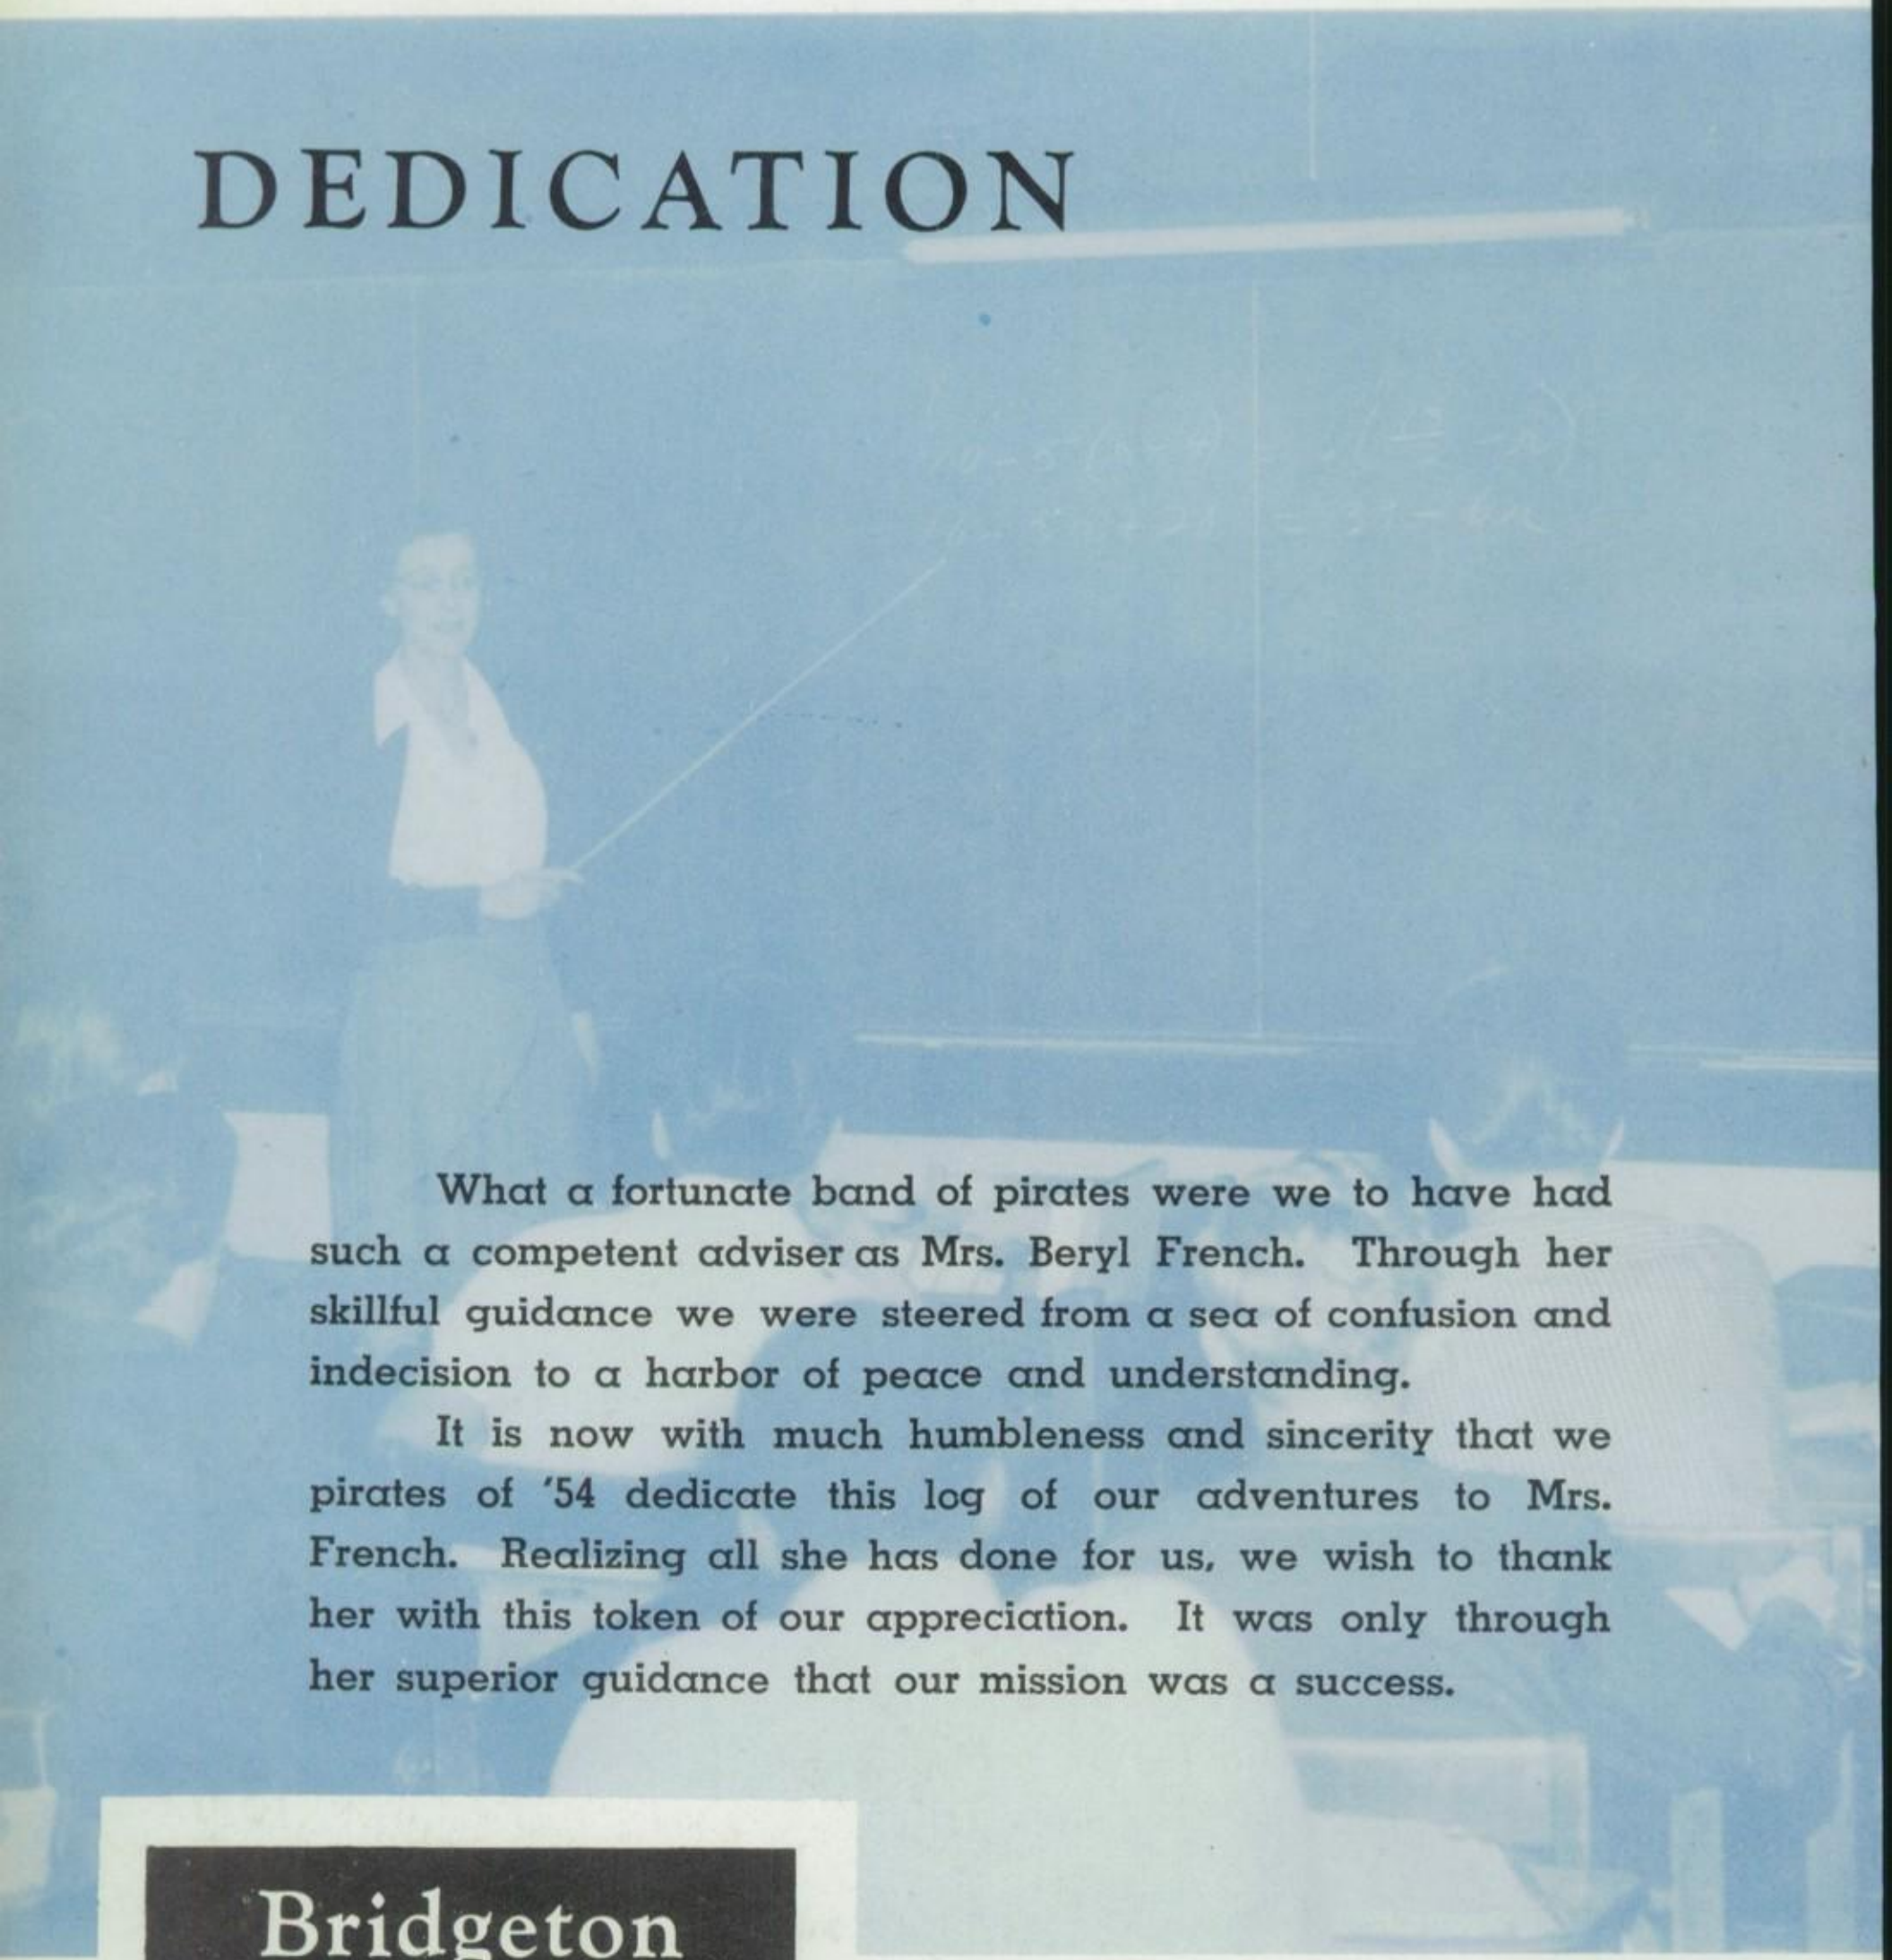
DEDICATION



What a fortunate band of pirates were we to have had such a competent adviser as Mrs. Beryl French. Through her skillful guidance we were steered from a sea of confusion and indecision to a harbor of peace and understanding.

It is now with much humbleness and sincerity that we pirates of '54 dedicate this log of our adventures to Mrs. French. Realizing all she has done for us, we wish to thank her with this token of our appreciation. It was only through her superior guidance that our mission was a success.

Bridgeton Log

Class of '54

Mrs. Beryl French

Senior Officers

E. Van Meter, treasurer, G. Miyazaki; adviser, Mrs. Beryl French; vice-president, H. Albiez; president, A. Balinkie; secretary, P. Jamison; B. Johnson, R. Hashimoto, R. Sheppard.

We are indebted to our senior officers for the fine job that they have done in leading us through our last years at Bridgeton High School. Those elected as our leaders and representatives were Arthur Balinkie, president; Hildegarde Albiez, vice-president; Patsy Jamison, secretary; George Miyazaki, treasurer. The executive committee members were Barry Johnson, Edith Van Meter, Reiko Hashimoto, and Russell Sheppard.

It is the obligation and responsibility of these elected leaders to discuss and make decisions upon the problems of the class which arise throughout the year. They must supervise the raising of sums of money to finance class projects; they must organize committees for the management of various school activities; they must carefully decide upon and record the distribution of funds; they must serve as good examples to the members of their own and other classes.

The officers, along with Mrs. French, our class adviser, work in cooperation with the Baconian staff and the Senior Play cast; they help to plan the step-up exercises, Senior Banquet, Baccalaureate Service, the Commencement Pageant and all other senior activities. To do these things they must provide original and creative ideas for discussion to be worked out together.

All these duties consume much time and energy; the officers work during school hours and even after school, giving up their own time for the benefit of the class.

Therefore, we seniors are grateful to our class officers for their untiring efforts in making this year truly memorable by their organization and direction. We feel that their interest and leadership have been an inspiration to our class and that their diligence and energy are indeed a credit to the traditions of our school.

DREAMS

Dreaming!
Dreaming dreams of far-off places,
Of high mountains and cool valleys,
Of fairyland and paradise,
Of sunshine on a warm spring day.
Dreaming;
Wistful thoughts and wishes,
Desiring, longing,
Living in a separate world—
Dreaming!

SUNSET ON THE SEA

Calling, beckoning,
The golden path of the sun,
Shimmering, glimmering across the blue.
Oh, what I'd give to follow you.
Where do you lead? Heaven?
Though I never try your endless journey to pursue,
I know that you will always keep on
Calling, beckoning.

Leon Horner

IN SPRING

In spring I am a wanderer,
A stranger to my kind.
They know me not as I wander
On the pale blue gauze of fantasy
And fly with birds to see life from afar,
Yet ever through a haze.
In spring the well-planned furrows of thought
That I have cultivated through a dim winter
Are rendered chaotic by a falling star, a dewy morn, or a teasing glance.
And then I know not what I am;
Indeed I do not know myself—in spring.

PRAYER FOR A HOUSE

May the roof brush off a threatening sky
And bear the weight of rain;
May the walls bar out a hostile world;
May every window pane
Be cordial; may we cultivate
A social swinging of our gate.
May the door be hinged with welcome;
And may the threshold stone
Echo with only friendly steps;
May love and happiness, tall grown,
Set foot on floor and brow on rafter,
Rocking all the rooms with laughter.

SILVER WINGS

Silver wings above the clouds,
Like high, flying birds
The wings soar on to their destination.
Under and over
The clouds they roar.
Now watch the mighty bird push down!
Its giant rubber feet
Glide over the runway,
Coming to a full stop
At the end of its journey,
Only to start another.

MOONLIGHT

The moonlight on the peaceful sea
Sends silver shafts of sparkling light
That dance about so gay, and flee
Like sea nymphs in the peaceful night.

SUNSET

There is a brilliant glow against the sky,
As the sun begins to lower its head behind the distant hills,
For a moment it pauses—
And looks once more over the world,
Smiles,
Then . . .
Silently,
Softly,
It disappears.

SILENCE

Never sound has brought such fear
As fear from sound you cannot hear,
For silence in the night can be
More fearful than the stormy sea.

Fact & Fancy concerning

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '54

It was Freshman Week! That afternoon Bill flopped down on the sofa and released a half groan. His father looked up from his evening paper.

"What's the matter, Bill?" he asked.

"Oh, I'm tired from carrying books for the upperclassmen all day," said Bill, "and I feel silly wearing Mom's hat. This Freshman Week has got to go!"

"Oh, so that's it," said his father with a twinkle in his eye. "Well, I think you'll find it's really worth it when you get even with everyone else for the next three years."

Soon Bill was out playing football, but his father laid aside his newspaper and went up to the attic. After about five minutes of rummaging he came down again with a large book in his hand. A closer inspection would have shown that the book was a 1954 Baconian. As he turned the first page of the book, a flood of memories came rushing back into his mind.

"Yes, the freshman party was ample compensation for our Freshman Week," he thought to himself. "Our Frosh Frolic certainly was a gay affair—it was our first class party, and everyone enjoyed himself immensely."

Names and more names: Art Calabrese, freshman president; Roberta Goss, vice-president; Joan Effie Morgan, secretary; Richard Wilson, treasurer; Barry Johnson, Edith Van Meter, Shirley Thomas, and Roger Glaspey, executives. Then there was Eugene Morita, who came through with flying colors for the class in their first magazine campaign, selling $177.10.

Things kept coming back to him—some of his fondest memories. The class flower was the carnation; the class colors, white and powder blue; the class motto, "Preparation is the key to success."

Yes, it had been quite a year. After everyone had finally settled down and become accustomed to the crowded halls, the time had gone quickly by; not too quickly, however, for the freshmen were only too glad to graduate to the tenth grade.

When they came back the next year, they were for the most part very arrogant sophomores, critical of everything and everyone. This air soon wore off, however; and under the leadership of President Barry Johnson, Vice-President Roberta Goss, Secretary Patsy Jamison, Treasurer George Miyazaki, and Executives Barbara Cook, Jean Henry, Richie Wilson, and Wilmer Black, they began to plan for their second class party. The gym was finally ready for the gala occasion on November 30. The "Snowflake Festival" was a hit from beginning to end. Bill's father smiled to himself, remembering the most beautiful snowflake of all, Jean Henry, dressed in dazzling white.

A few more pages, a few more faces, a few more memories . . . Alvin Levenson, the sophomore high salesman in the magazine campaign with $138.50 . . . the junior year officers: Barry Johnson, the re-elected president; Nancy Gaburo, the vice-president; Jean Henry, the secretary; George Miyazaki, treasurer for the second time, and executives Barbara Cook, Ed Rose, Patsy Jamison, and Wilmer Black.

a Four Year Voyage

Bill's father recalled how proud they had been to be juniors. He realized now that they had really grown up between the sophomore and junior years. The halfway milestone had been passed.

The immediate concern of that memorable year was the class rings. Having been measured in September, everyone had worked himself into a frenzy hoping that he would get his coveted ring before Christmas. "Rings before Christmas," was the cry. The story had a happy ending, for they got them in plenty of time for the holiday. Leaning back in his chair, Bill's father remembered how proud he, like his classmates, had been of his ring. What did it matter if it was on the finger of your "one and only"?

He knew the next event of the year as well as he knew his own name. Shortly after the Christmas holidays were over was begun the work on the climax to their three high school years; the junior prom. First there was the lining up of dates, then the choosing of the dress or suit, the last minute asking for the car, and last of all the silent furor before entering the gym and the first sensation of enchantment. It was plainly evident that the prom chairman, Judy Cubberley, the co-chairman, Betty Poulos, and the numerous other workers had outdone themselves to make this night a never to be forgotten one. "April in Paris"—a paragon of beauty and a perfect time and place. It was indeed a night never to be forgotten, that April 24, 1953.

The senior year! How wonderful it had been to be able to call themselves seniors! A most glorious year it was, and a most difficult year, too. It was hard to get all the homework done, go out for sports, and take part in the many school activities. However, like all seniors, they managed to squeeze everything in.

Then the senior play was chosen; and after many hectic rehearsals, "Our Miss Brooks," starring Patsy Rider in the title role, was presented on December 3 and 4. It was truly one of the best performances ever given by a senior class of B. H. S.

Before they knew it the holidays were over; they had been the guests of the juniors at their prom; and their last assignments had all been handed in. Then there was nothing left to do but prepare for Commencement. Then came the proud moment when each senior, wreathed in smiles, received his diploma. And then it was over: no more crowded halls, no more noisy classrooms, no more horseplay, no more school. This was the day that they had been waiting for; but when it had finally arrived, three hundred some students were wishing it were still far off. It was hard to say goodbye to the friends and to the school. But then, don't all earthly things have to come to an end sometime?

A voice interrupted him from his thoughts: "Dear, will you please call Bill in for supper."

Laying the book down and smiling to himself, Bill's father was thinking, "I guess the only thing really permanent about anything that happens to you is the memory."

CLASS OF '55

The juniors, our "first mates," eagerly await the moment when we seniors shall have completed our venture and then will turn over the command of our ship to them.

The junior year is always a memorable one, and this has been no exception. There have been so many thrills—class rings, the prom, and finally junior step-up which climaxes the year.

The class adviser is Mrs. Mary Cossaboon whose wise guidance has been shown in the many successful accomplishments of her class. The class officers are president, Russell Bell; vice-president, Geraldine Merrit; secretary, Jean Davis; treasurer, Irving Bradford; and the executive committee, Sandra Good, Ann Bauder, and Glenn Earle. Their class flower is the yellow rose; their colors, gold and navy; and their motto, "Fortune favors the brave."

May all the fun, excitement, and adventure that we have known be yours. Now to you, the class of '55, we pirates leave the command of our good ship. May you carry on in the traditional manner and be a credit to Bridgeton High School. The class of '54 wishes you luck and success in all your future undertakings.

CLASS OF '56

After emerging from the first year in high school, the sophomore class is becoming a more important part of the student body. With Miss Rita McGeehan as adviser, they have really gotten into the swing of things, entering into clubs, organizations, and sports with high spirits and enthusiasm. Sophomore class officers are John Garrison, president; Harriet Husted, vice-president; Becky Fauber, secretary; and Fumio Nakao, treasurer. Those elected to the executive committee are Michael Scarlato, Jill Shoemaker, Roberta Gbur, and William Ternay. Under the capable leadership of these officers, the class of '56 operates efficently. "Moonlight Serenade" was chosen as a theme for the sophomore party. Through the planning and working of the executive committee and others, the party was a success. Rose and silver were selected as the class colors, while a white rose is the class flower. "Life is what you choose to make it" was chosen to be the class motto. Members of the sophomore class have a great deal to look forward to. Soon they will become upper classmen with only two more years left in high school. Only good can come if the class of '56 keeps up the fine work that they have shown thus far.

CLASS OF '57

Like brave sailors, like bold adventurers, but more like bewildered freshmen, the class of 1957 entered the halls of Bridgeton High School. Then came that period of newness, of strangeness, of frantic running through the halls looking for elevators and rooms that didn't exist. Soon, under the capable guidance of Mr. Clarence Gump, their class adviser, the perplexities began to fade, and their spirits began to rise. Fulfilling their challenge made at the beginning of the magazine campaign, the "frosh" came out on top. Their spirits were high. Then came "Freshman Week." The climax of "Freshman Week" was the freshman party which was a big success due to the eagerness and energy which they put into it. This was the first social event of their high school life, and it was enjoyed by all. To everyone's complete satisfaction, the following were elected to be their class officers: George Mukoyama, president; Sally Woodruff, vice-president; Bonnie Snowhite, secretary; Nicky Rio, treasurer. The executive committee consisted of Florence Hildreth, Kenneth Bell, Irmgard Stallmann, and Earl Dooley. With these competent officers, we are sure that the class of 1957 will sail on toward success. "Knowledge is the gateway to success" was chosen as the class motto. The rose was selected as the flower to represent the "frosh." The class colors of navy blue and white were chosen. We, the class of 1954, say bon voyage and wish the class of 1957 continued success throughout their future years at B. H. S.

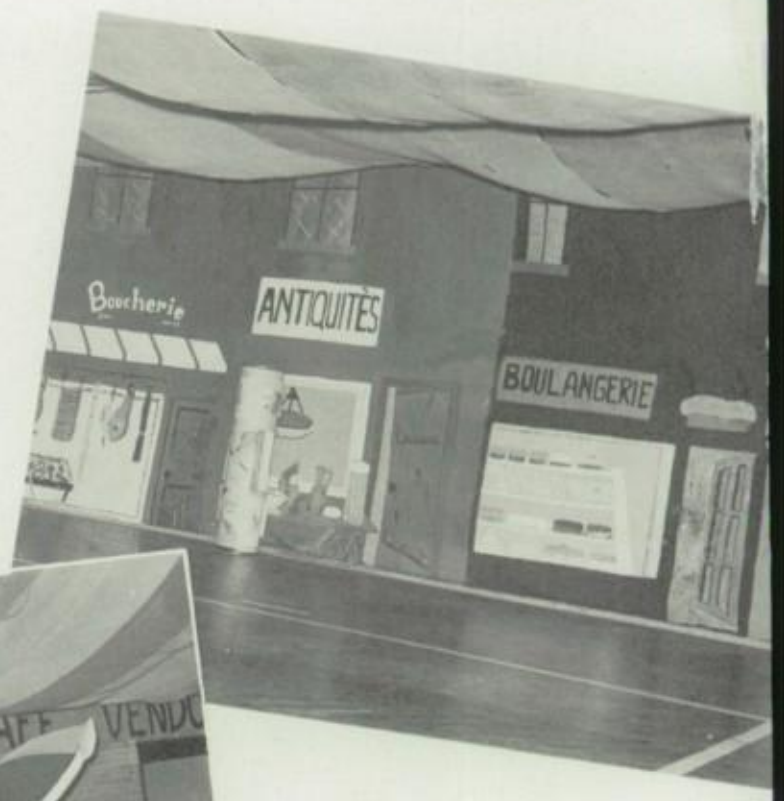
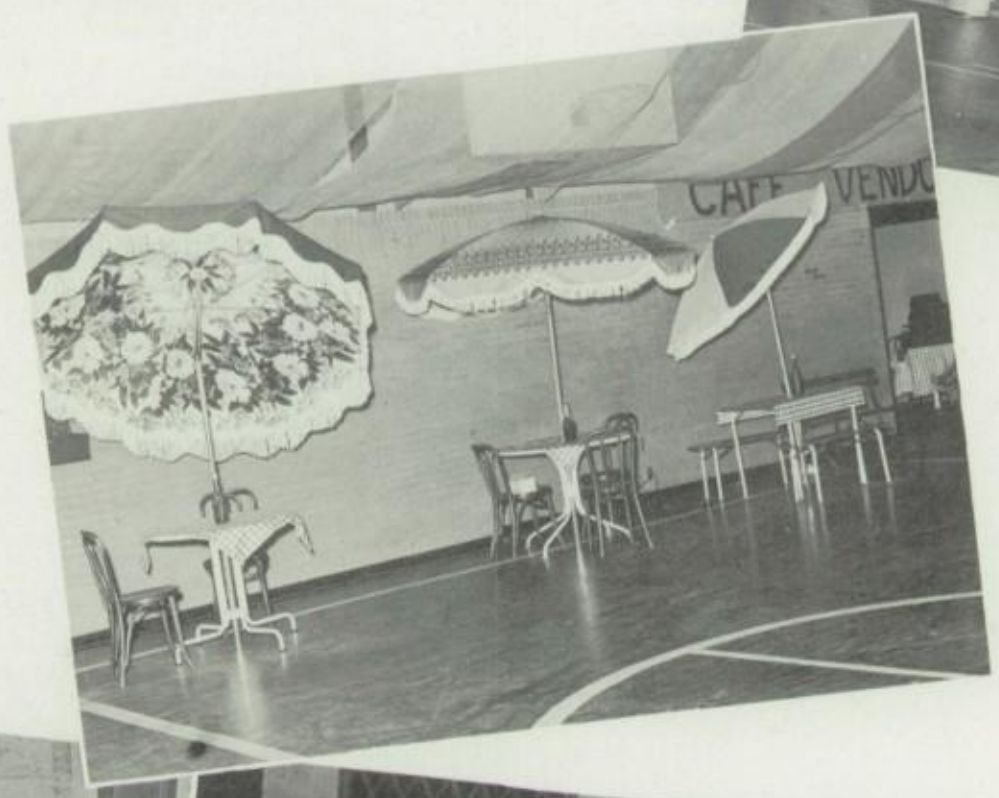
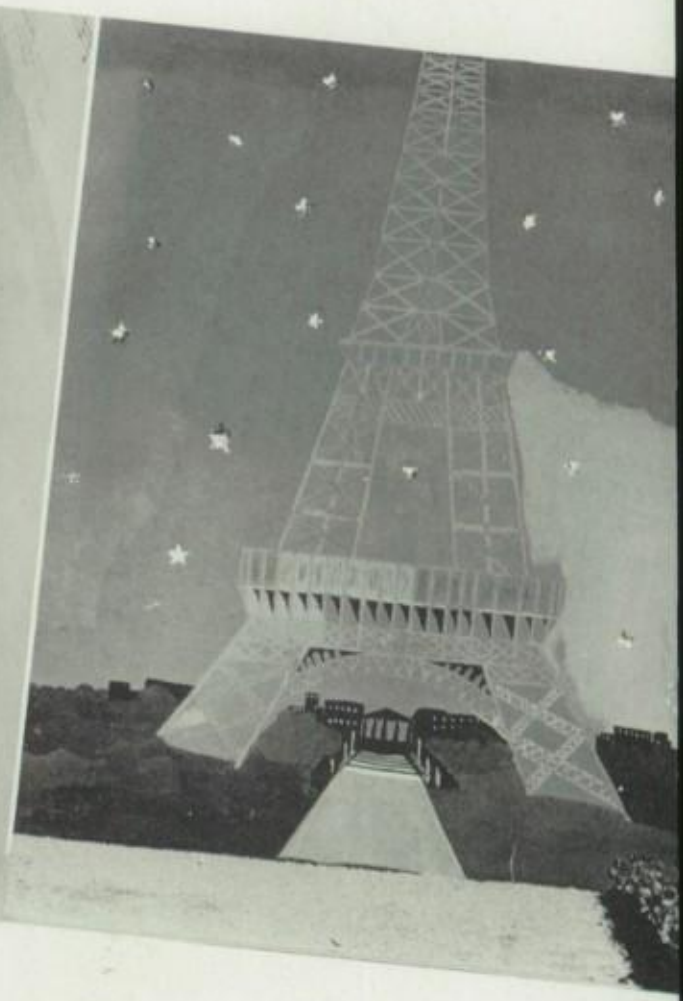
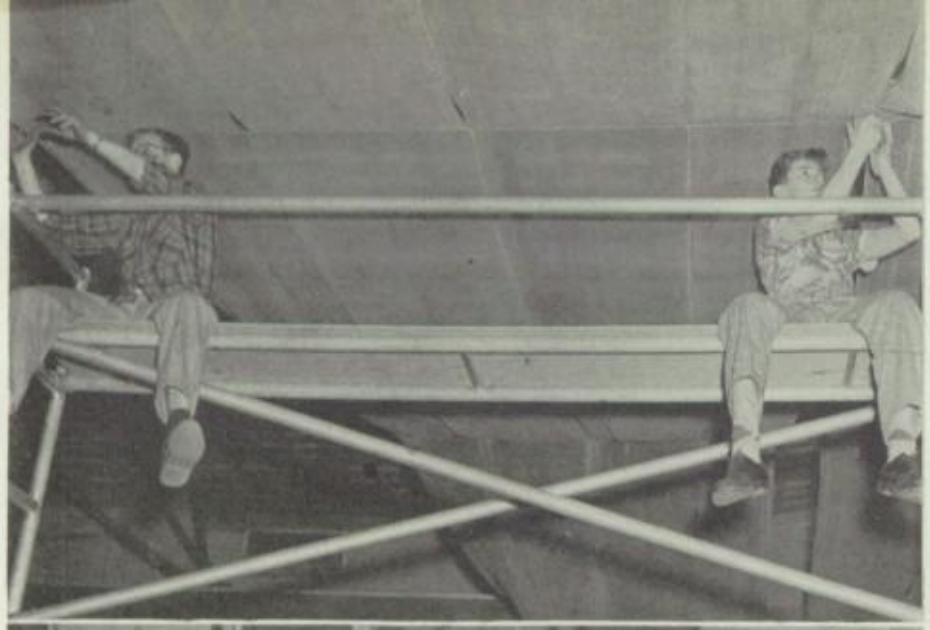
LIBRAIRIE

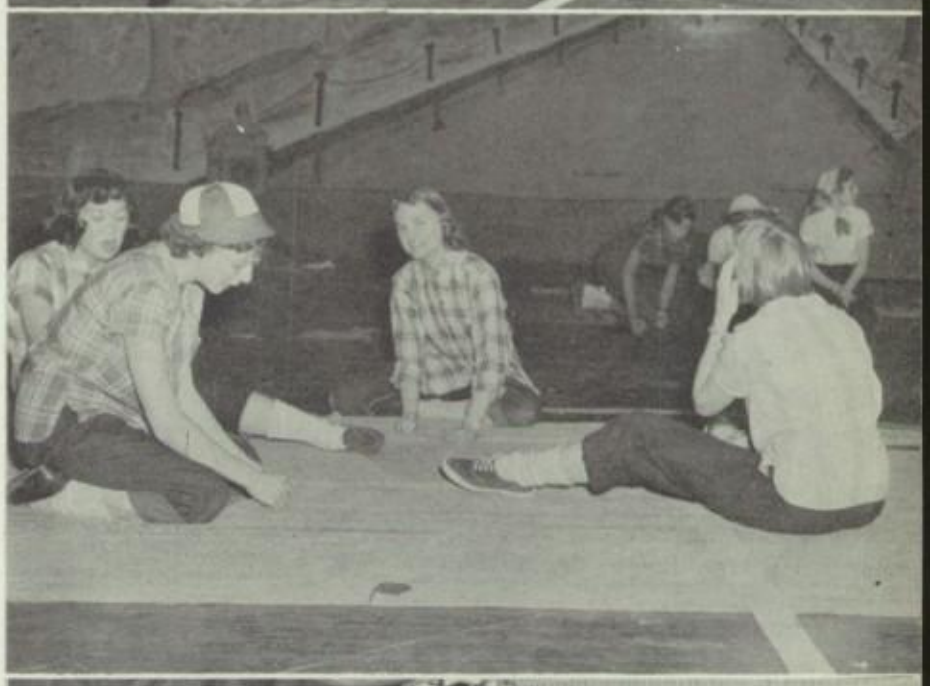
Shipboard Frolic

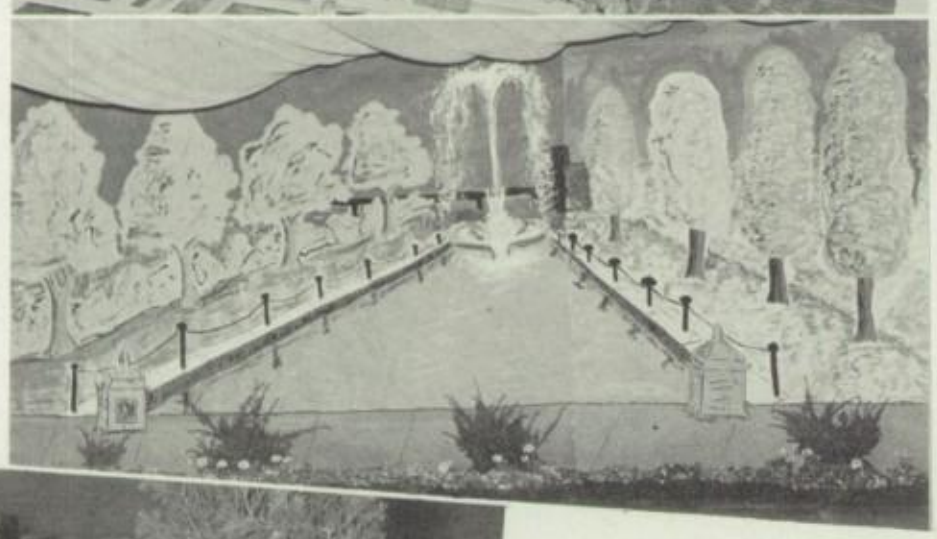












In the spring of 1953 our travels led us to Paris. This was the long-awaited prom.

How beautiful was our gym, now transformed into a wonderland with a truly French atmosphere. Remember how we worked against time, thinking the scenery would never be finished? But when the big night arrived, there was Paris in all its glory—the bookstalls, the sidewalk cafe, and of course, the Eiffel Tower, before our very eyes.

From the instant that we stepped into the beautifully decorated entrance and were swept away on a cloud of music, until the last bar of melody died away—this was a night that will be remembered and cherished as one of the most lovely of our high school days.

Among many of the responsibilities undertaken by the Student Council are the distributing of the weekly menu and the daily bulletin, polishing the trophies and keeping the trophy cabinets in order, sponsoring the annual magazine campaign, sending get-well cards or sympathy cards to students and members of the faculty, collecting contributions for blind ladies of the community, helping in the Guidance Office, and serving on Lost and Found duty.

Echo

The Echo plays an important role in the life of B. H. S. students. Throughout the year, news about the various clubs, organizations, sports events and social occurrences are brought before the student body by the paper.

Each year the Echo sponsors a popularity contest. Students vote for their favorites on ballots printed in the paper. An evening program is then held in the B. H. S. auditorium to spotlight the winners.

In order to become a member of the Echo staff a student must first complete a one-year journalism course which is taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Kirby. Journalism is open to any sophomore, junior, or senior who has maintained a B average in English.

The staff with its editorial adviser, Mrs. Elizabeth Kirby, convenes seventh period each day at which time they work very hard to make the paper a success. The editor-in-chief meets with her assistants and page editors to plan the paper, to cover news beats, and to write stories and headlines. Distributive Education

The purpose of Distributive Education Club is to train students to become better sales personnel. These senior students attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon and on Saturday. In their various positions downtown, they put into use their practical training under the supervision of an approved store manager. They receive payment for their work and at the same time learn a vocation which will enable them to make a profitable living. The officers of the club are president, Stanley Bennett; vice-president, Dolly Vitale; secretary, Alyce Stanley; treasurer, Jerry Caldwell, the co-ordinator is Frank Smith.

The officers are president, Roberta Goss; vice-president, Mary Lu Fox; secretary, Patsy Jamison; treasurer, Kay Sasaki.

Auditors—Treasurers

The Auditors and Treasurers Club is a very important organization, handling the financial matters of all the school organizations. Orchestra

The Bridgeton High School Orchestra is composed of boys and girls who are interested in playing their instruments in a group. Any student from the ninth grade to the twelfth is eligible to participate in our orchestra. The orchestra provides music for many special programs as well as the annual senior play, the Echo play, the Christmas program, and the Spring Concert. They practice weekly in order to achieve perfection for these programs.

There have been found in our orchestra many unusually talented musicians; and just as in previous years the orchestra has had the honor of having members selected to play in the All-State Orchestra, this year was no exception—David Dilks, trumpeter, merited the honor. The conductor of this musical group is Miss Marion Whitely.

Choir

Consisting of persons selected from the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, the Bridgeton High School Choir is directed by Miss Florence Mulford. The members are selected because of their outstanding ability in voice and music. They sing for special programs: however, their main appearances are in the annual Christmas program and the Spring Concert. They also present programs for various organizations; such as, the Rotary Club, Matinee Musicale, the Junior High School assembly, and the Senior High School assemblies.

Those girls who are interested in singing meet twice a week to rehearse for their two public appearances — the annual Christmas program, which combines talent from the grade schools of Bridgeton as well as the high school, and the Spring Concert.

Singing in a large group such as this provides musical training and experience for those who enjoy it. Each member of the Girls' Glee Club receives one credit toward graduation for each year of participation in this elective. Miss Florence Mulford is the girls' director.

Majorettes

Our corps of talented majorettes performs at all football games, in parades when marching before the band, and in the annual B. H. S. Band Show. The girls perform a variety of stunts and original routines. Harriet Husted, drum majorette; Elaine Ansink, head of twirling majorettes; and six supporting members round out this corps of eight girls. The group practices regularly to polish their twirling and marching routines and to achieve precision under the guidance of Mrs. Fanny Cowell, their adviser.

Wearers of the "B"

The wearers of the maroon and white "B" are athletes who have participated in one or more varsity sports. However, color guards, cheerleaders, and the managers of the various teams are also eligible for a "B". The "B" symbolizes good sportsmanship on and off the field of play, complete cooperation, and willingness to learn.

Any boy taking an active part in four varsity sports in one year receives a white wool sweater with an English "B". Each girl participating in three varsity sports in one year receives a beautiful white blazer. Barbara Cook has the unusual honor of being the first girl to be awarded a blazer while still in her sophomore year.

Cheerleaders

The backbone of the pep, vigor, and vitality of our school spirit at basketball and football games is our cheerleaders.

The girls did a bang-up job this year in keeping up the enthusiasm and boosting our school spirit during athletic events.

Regular sessions are held to practice new cheers, stunts, and songs which are later used at our pep rallies and athletic contests.

Elaine Frazier is this year's head cheerleader. The girls' adviser is Miss Mary Ann Wilich.

Band

An organization that deserves much acclaim is the Bridgeton High School Band. The band performs ably for us before the football games and during the half-time under the direction of Mr. John A. Elmer. In the spring the band presents the Band Show, an annual talent program. No commencement would be complete without the band's assistance. The members of the band are rewarded for their efforts by an all-day picnic near the close of school. This climaxes the year's activity. There are approximately sixty members in the band.

The color guard marches before the band carrying our national and school flags.

The officers of the band are president, David Dilks; vice-president, Audrey Johnson; secretary, Laura Sobelman; treasurer, Olin Fisher.

The advertising and circulation managers conducted successful financial campaigns.

The responsibility of planning and publishing the yearbook is that of the Baconian staff. This publication is important to the seniors because it brings back memories of all the good times and hard work of their four years in Bridgeton High. Only through careful planning and concerted work could these activities be compiled. With Mr. Arthur Baker as a capable adviser, the staff has produced a yearbook of which they can be proud. A great deal of time was spent by the picture managers, Shirley Thomas and Richard Wilson; the club editors, Jean Henry and Barry Johnson; the sports editors, Barbara Cook and Ed Rose; historian, Peter Wright, and the quotations committee headed by Hildegarde Albiez and Jane Anne Bergeson. Much credit is due to the top four editors, Robert Woodruff, editor-in-chief; Kay Miller, associate editor; Beverly Griner and Jean Sambrook, assistant editors. Mrs. Beryl French acted as adviser to the business staff who are responsible for financing the '54 Baconian. Alvin Levenson headed the business staff while Leon Horner was in charge of circulation. The arduous task of managing finances, soliciting ads and taking subscriptions was completed punctually and efficiently.

Following in the footsteps of the two previous years, this year's team had their season marred by a one point loss. This loss was to Atlantic City, the same team that spoiled their undefeated season by one point in 1951, early in the season, but when it all came out in the wash this point proved the difference between Bridgeton's fourth straight Group IV Championship. Bridgeton kept a clean slate until the Atlantic City encounter. We opened the season with a 21-6 win over a newcomer to Bridgeton's schedule, Hamilton Township High School. There were more new faces at the B. H. S. Stadium as Roosevelt High from Washington, D. C., journeyed here for the first time. As for winning, their trip was in vain as Bridgeton downed them 19-0. After losing to Atlantic City 7-6 the Bulldogs lost another "heartbreaker" in the last minute of play 21-14 to our old rival, Collingswood. Then the Maroon and White moved over to the win column with a victory over Woodrow Wilson. The following week the scheduled Vineland tilt was "snowed out." Then Riding high at the present, but it's obvious, he is due for a crash.

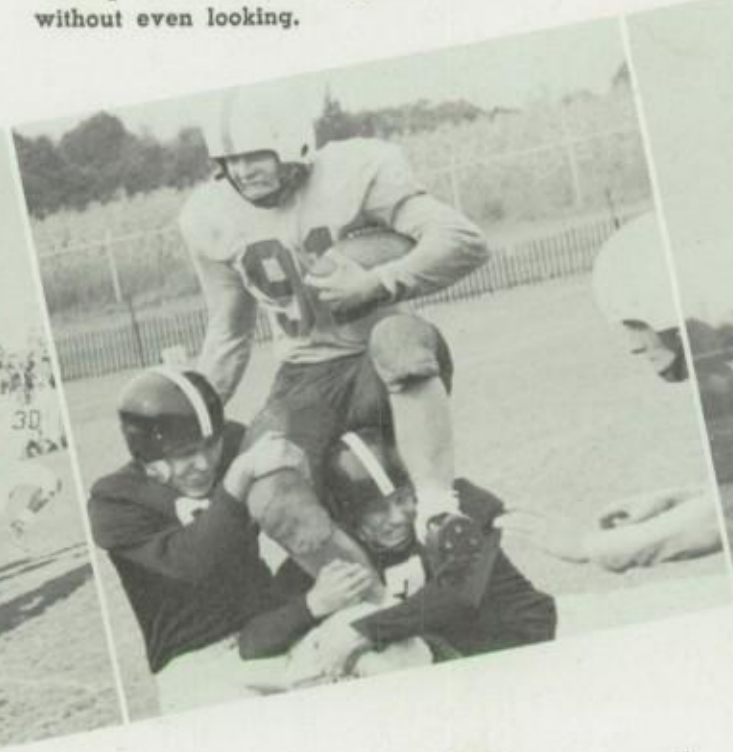
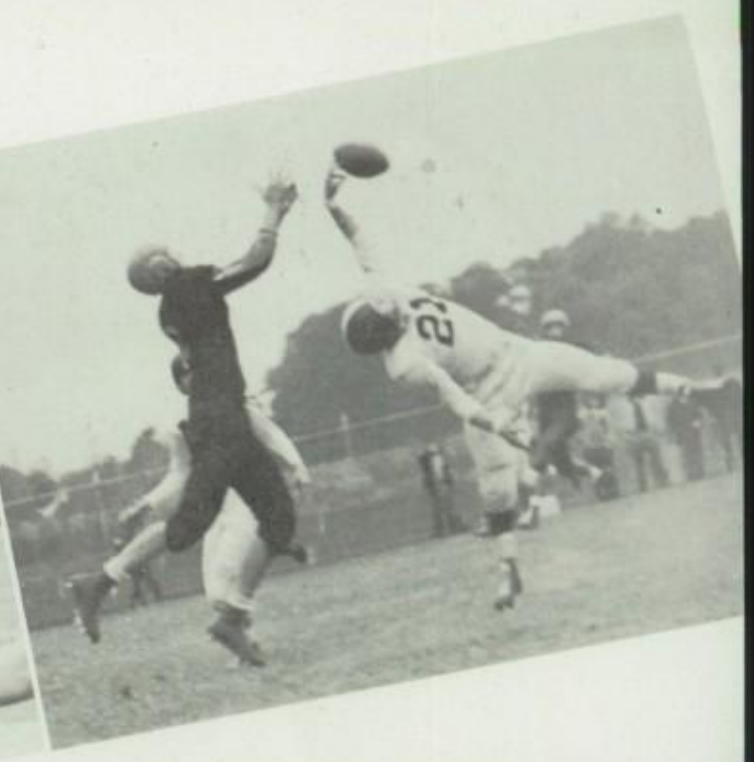
"Palmy" is bringing this opponent down without even looking.





Rod Snowhite is literally bending over backwards to make this successful save.

Football

Gridmen are proud of the sportsmanship at Bridgeton High School.

tragedy struck the B. H. S. gridiron team. Before a crowd of 7,500 fans the home team came out on the short end of the score. It was the first time in two years that Bridgeton had lost a game on the home field. The Shapiromen with their "never-say-die" spirit however, bounced back the following week to put forth one of the finest performances of the season in upsetting a stubborn Camden eleven. Trailing in the fourth period the Bulldogs put on a show for the fans that had journeyed to Camden to see them. Although the game had been a nip-and-tuck battle thus far, the Bulldogs came up with a successful drive, not only of football plays, but also of a determined display of their will to win. This was the highlight of the game and to many of the fellows, the highlight of the season. After the dust had cleared and the final whistle had blown, Bridgeton was crowned champion with a 19-14 victory. Bridgeton remained victorious over their "turkey-day" rivals also, as the seniors played in their last game on the B. H. S. Stadium field. Vineland was the last victim of the Bulldogs as they climaxed a successful season.

KNEELING: Joe Butler, Ed Rose, Sidney Clement, Carl Palmisciano, John Coursey, Tom Dodohara, Gilbert Chew. STANDING: Art Calabrese, Barry Johnson, Willie Joe Fletcher, and Joe Franco.

In the last year as head-man of the Bridgeton Bulldogs, Coach David Shapiro used a new system in regards to whom he was to use as captains at Saturday's game. At the beginning of the season he named four original captains, two offensive and two defensive. Art Calabrese and John Coursey were the offensive bosses along with the Barry Semple and Ed Rose who were the defensive leaders. As the season progressed Coach Shapiro alternated some of the other members of the team as captains. Under the new system many of the fellows who wouldn't have had the chance to profit by this opportunity had the chance to experience the leading of their team. Although some of the players did not captain the team and some were chosen more than once, every one received the feeling he was sharing some of the responsibility of making decisions for the squad.

Boys' Basketball

This year's basketball campaign got off to an early start by getting practice under way two weeks earlier than usual. After taking their first game from P. S. DuPont, Bridgeton won the March of Dimes Tournament for the second straight year. After beating Vineland, Bridgeton won over Millville, 32-23, in the final round to retain the title. Following the tournament win, Bridgeton went ahead in the county series by knocking over Vineland. Collingswood and Atlantic City won over Bridgeton in the next two contests. Back home, the Bulldogs eased out a thrilling one-point decision over Millville to make it 2-0 in county competition. The next contest with Salem, a newcomer to this year's schedule, was also a tight one with Salem winning out in the three-minute overtime period, 64-60. Camden followed by giving Bridgeton a close game, but won by one point. Atlantic City duplicated their first win with another victory in an afternoon game at the B. H. S. gym. Stinging from defeat the Bulldogs won an impressive victory over Vineland on the loser's court. In the next two contests Camden and Collingswood added two more to Bridgeton's loss column. Following this Bridgeton retained the county championship by downing Millville in one of the best games of the season. Hoping to keep the wins higher than the losses, the Maroon and White will give it all they have to win over Pleasantville and P. S. DuPont.

Girls' Basketball

Defeating the skillful Alumnae in the season's opener, the girls had reason to be confident of a successful campaign. Under the direction of Miss Louise Coursen, the varsity squad concluded its season with 11 victories and one loss, winning the South Jersey League Championship for the third consecutive year. The championship sextet provided a great deal of competition for its opponents, displaying exceptional speed and considerable skill.

Woodstown and Glassboro furnished the most exciting games of the season. Throughout both games the score was nip and tuck with B.H.S. the final victor by two points in each case.

The squad was captained by Nancy Gaburo and Barbara Cook. The six members were Helen Ogota, Joan Effie Morgan, Nancy Gaburo as guards; and Mae Yamamoto, Lorene Bell, and Barbara Cook, forwards. Audrey Robinson was head manager and official scorer, and Hildegarde Albiez was the official timer.

The junior varsity had a very good season also, winning 8 out of 11 games. Carrying a squad of veterans and newcomers, the team displayed a fine game of basketball under the guidance of Mrs. Joan Green.

Hockey

The girls' hockey squad had a fair season this year, battling to a record of five wins, four losses, and three ties. Despite the early season losses, Coach Joan Green's charges bounced back with the spirit and determination of an indomitable and dexterous team.

The games the team will never forget were those with Paulsboro and Woodbury. Paulsboro was leading at half-time with a score of 3-1. During the second period the Bridgeton lassies scored three goals, winning their first league game 4-3. The Woodbury girls trounced Bridgeton 7-2 at their first meeting, but the speedy B. H. S. eleven, accurate, determined, and showing excellent teamwork, downed the Woodbury club 2-1 at a second encounter.

Baseball

Bridgeton High's diamond nine were kings in South Jersey last year. Under the fine coaching of Larry Elwell the team coasted through a very successful season retaining both the Cumberland County and the Group IV Championships. Behind the pitching of "Strikeout King" Richie Smithson, Southpaw Pete Hitchner, and "Fastballing" Russ Bell, the team ended with almost a perfect record, one of the losses being a freak play in which the pitcher's cap became intangled with the ball and allowed a run to score. This broke the 1-1 tie and lost the game. The season batting honors went to a diminutive speedster, Elmer White, who cracked all batting records with a better than .600 average. All the pitching laurels at Bridgeton and in South Jersey went to Richard Smithson. He was chosen on the All-County, All South Jersey, and All-State teams.

Track

This year's track team came up with another successful season. Under the able coaching of George Shelton the track crew held its own in all the events. Bridgeton played host to the Annual Bridgeton Relays again, a highlight of the track season in which as many as 40 schools journey from as far as Washington, D. C., to participate. The team, as a rule, were veterans from last year's squad. Barry Johnson and Jerry Morris were the returning varsity men who had previously earned points. .Looking forward, the squad that returns should continue to perform as well as the old one, due to the young members of this team and the small number that will be leaving this year.

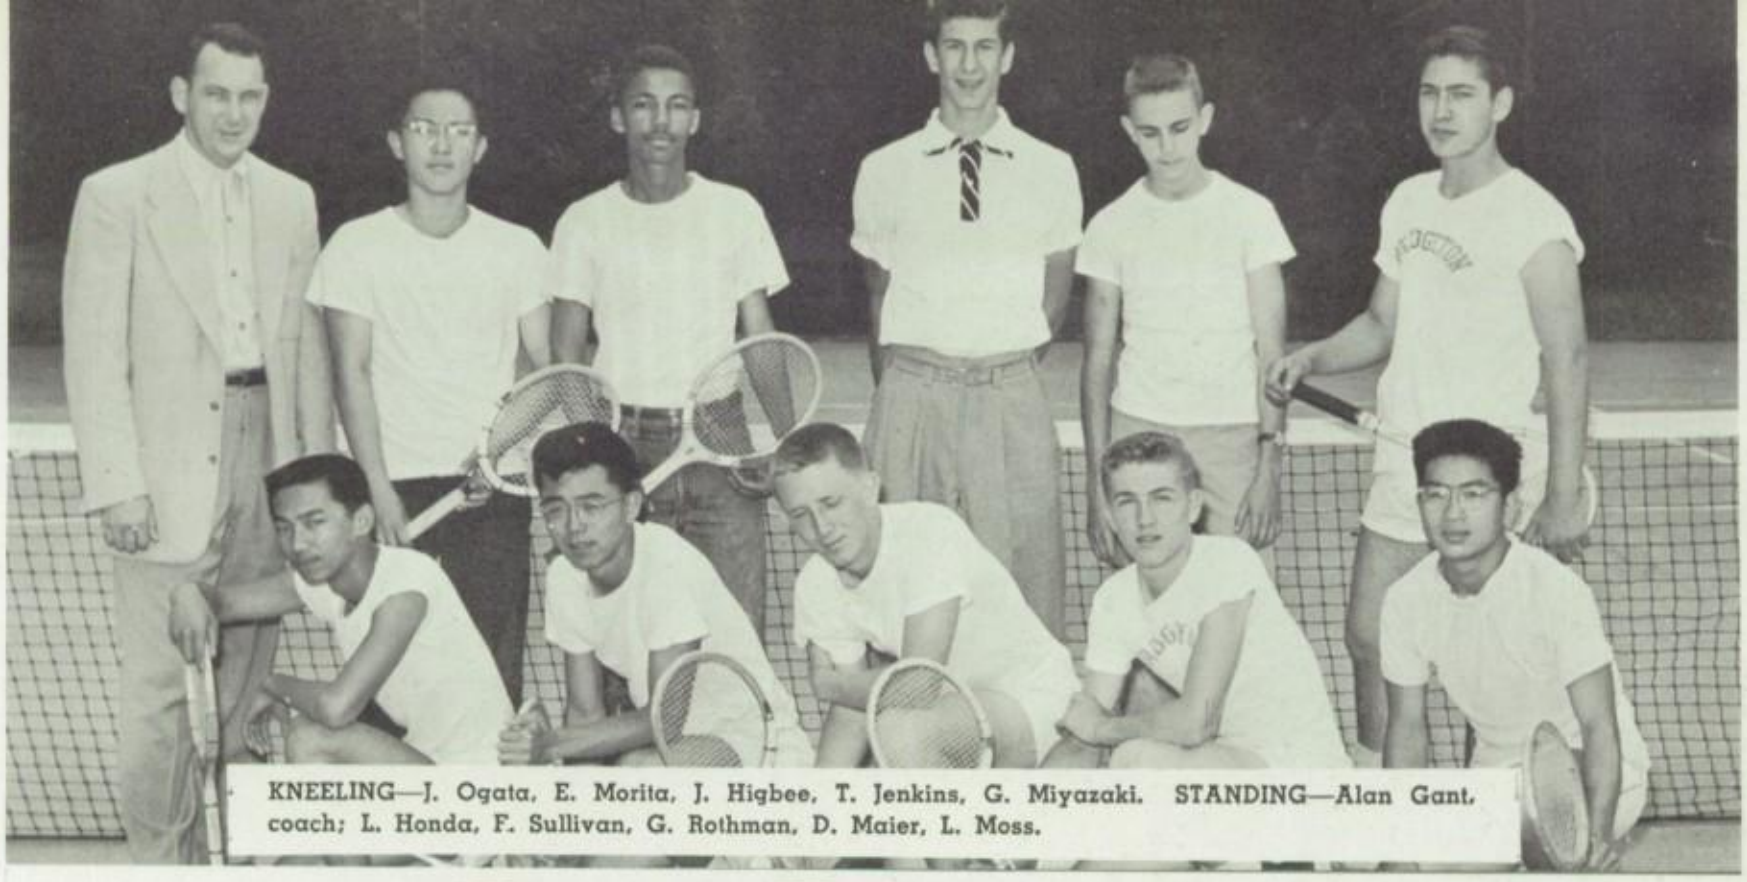
Cross Country

Bridgeton's Cross Country team, under the fine direction of George Shelton, is again to be given high praise for their efforts in the past season. Although the runners did not finish with as good a record as they wished for, the fellows are to be complimented upon their determination and will to bring home the victories and loyalty to practices. The squad was a relatively small one this year with the team built around the five top men, who are seniors and are veterans from last year's Garnet crew. The fellows that will be leaving this year's squad are Robert Edwards, also varsity basketball; Heino Truumees, Bernard Zatz and the team's high scorers, Robert Cohen and Isaac Scafe. Bob Cohen, who is a high scorer, has been with the team the longest. He started in his freshman year and has been a faithful runner ever since.



KNEELING—J. Ogata, E. Morita, J. Higbee, T. Jenkins, G. Miyazaki. STANDING—Alan Gant, coach; L. Honda, F. Sullivan, G. Rothman, D. Maier, L. Moss.

Boys' Tennis

Bridgeton High's Tennis squad came up with another successful season, under the direction of Alan Gant. Tommy Jenkins played "one" man most of the season, except for an ankle injury that plagued him. Next we turn the spotlight on Leonard Moss. "Leni" also had a good year, which kept him at the top of the ladder most of the season. Contrary to Mr. Moss's procedure of playing very short matches, James Higbee was the fellow that got himself involved in what were usually the longest contests. The most important thing about the next two fellows is that they not only play very good tennis, but also that they will return this season to give the Bulldog's competitors a run for their money. These two lads are George Miyazaki and Eugene Morita, and they will be battling for the top spot on the tennis ladder come spring.

Girls' Tennis

Zing go the racquets of the Bridgeton High Girls' tennis team! With an almost entirely new squad, B. H. S. will be striving to capture first place in the West Jersey High School Girls' Tennis League. In the 1953 season the team defeated Millville, Paulsboro, Woodstown, Penns Grove, and Hammonton and received its only setback from Woodbury. It placed second in the league, under the lead of Coach Sophie Amaranto.

Jerry Stevens, Nancy Gaburo, and Barbara Cook journeyed to the Woodbury Girls' Invitation Interscholastic Tennis Tournament, and the girls received bronze medals for progressing beyond the second round.

There are nine girls on the varsity team. In order to acquire one of the positions, elimination matches are played.

FIRST ROW—C. Stanton, D. Kleiner, J. Stevens, B. Cook, N. Gaburo, J. Cubberley. SECOND ROW—J. Robinson, C. Cornatzer, B. Griner, Sophie Amaranto, coach; B. Smith, J. Shoemaker, M. Weed.

This year no less than 16 members of the squad were seniors!

With the assistant coaches in the background, Ed Rose presents to Coach Shapiro a gift of appreciation from the grid team.

Head Coach David F. Shapiro delivering his farewell address at the annual BHS Football Banquet, December 9, 1953. In his speech, he urged Bridgetonians to continue their efforts in maintaining a fine athletic program. The other honored guests are (left to right) Superintendent of Schools, Rowland H. Mulford; Director of Athletics, David S. Bewick; and guest speaker, Head Coach William Leckonby of Lehigh University.

The annual banquet climaxes the football season. Shown here are the principal speakers and some members of the football and hockey teams.

Each year B'Nai Brith makes an award for outstanding teamplay and Sportsmanship. Wilmer "Bunky" Black is pictured here receiving the placque from Coach Shapiro.

Alma Mater
Lyrics - Mr. H. C. Smalley
Music - Mrs. K. A. Ayars
In the southern end of Jersey, there's a quaint old fashion town. With its classic halls of learning that have won its great renown. Alma Mater, Alma Mater, the school we love the best. May thy colors ever lead us. And proudly wave thee a cheer we'll render, Bridgeton
Bridgeton High forevermore

Mission accomplished! We have located our treasure chest, opened it, and found it filled with abundant riches.

This has been a memorable adventure, filled with all the excitement, color, and thrills that are associated with the lives of pirates. There was no trepidation among us, for it was only through our great daring and courage that a distant hope became a living reality.

This is not just the end of a successful mission for us, it is the beginning of a whole new life in which we will put to use the riches which we found in the treasure chests of knowledge.

A CHALLENGING CAREER FOR TODAY'S YOUTH

With today's scientific approach to farming, so far removed from the horse and plow farming of yesterday; with the knowledge that nature is assisted in every possible way by the laboratory and the scientist to produce better crops at lower cost, today's young men and women are entering the field of agriculture with new vigor and enthusiasm.

This colophon in a fine yearbook says not just "We will do"

-but "we have done"

We have enjoyed working with you on this, your 1954 yearbook.
You have had our promise of an excellent publication.
You have in your hand our performance.
We hope you are well pleased.

Above, an old colophon and inside it a comparatively new one, signifying the spirit of Campus—progression based on tradition.
